9. [] JGO) Met with Mr. J. R. Blandford and Mr. F. M. Slatinshek, House Armed Services Committee staff, as a follow-up to last week's conversations and briefed them orally from the agreed community figures on the speed of the Soviet V-Class, C-Class, Y-Class, and the new A-Class submarines. I pointed out that such determination is a rather imprecise science and that the figures are constantly being revised upwards. After meeting with Admiral Rickover and Navy representatives later in the morning, Mr. Slatinshek told me the Chairman is now satisfied on the matter.

10. [] - JGO) Received a call from [] General Counsel, NSA. [] told me that he had just received the transcript of Admiral Noel Gayler's appearance before the Symington Subcommittee last week, and noted that during the course of questioning Senator Fulbright indicated that he intended to forward a letter to the DCI requesting for the record the total amount of money expended Government-wide and the number of people involved country by country in gathering intelligence. I thanked [] for the information.

11. [] - JGO) Met with Miss Dorothy Fosdick, Staff Director, Subcommittee on National Security and International Operations, Senate Committee on Government Operations, in response to her call last evening. Miss Fosdick requested a background paper on Soviet missiles and submarines for Senator Henry Jackson's (D., Wash.) personal information similar to that provided last year by Mr. Duckett, in preparation for the ABM debate which Senator Jackson expects will start on Friday of this week.
